Reading Passage (Items 26 - 30)

Directions: Read the passage and choose the best answer for each question.

The Amazon Rainforest is the largest rainforest in the world, covering about 5.5 million square kilometers in South America. It is often called the "lungs of the Earth" because it produces around 20% of the world's oxygen. This makes the Amazon very important for our planet's health.

The Amazon is home to many animals and plants, many of which are found nowhere else on Earth. It has more kinds of plants and animals than any other place on the planet. Scientists are still discovering new species in the rainforest every year. Some of the animals in the Amazon include jaguars, sloths, monkeys, and colorful birds like parrots.

The Amazon also plays a big role in the Earth's climate. It helps absorb carbon dioxide, a gas that contributes to climate change. If the rainforest is destroyed, it could make climate change worse for everyone.

Sadly, the Amazon is in danger. People are cutting down trees for farming, logging, and building. This is called deforestation. If we don't protect the Amazon, we could lose many of the plants and animals that live there, and the Earth's climate could be affected.

It's important for us to take care of the Amazon Rainforest to help keep our planet healthy.

26) What can be the best title of the reading passage?

4. It is the center of Oxygen production.

28) What could the destruction of the rainforest mainly lead to?

1. A greater climate change
2. A lack of world food
3. A dangerous river
4. A new discovery

29) According to the passage, what are the things people should do to protect the Amazon?

1. people should continue cutting trees.
2. people should stop logging from the forest.
3. people should continue building from Amazon woods.
4. people should stop learning about the Amazon deforestation.

30) According to the passage, which one is NOT true about the Amazon rainforest?

1. Trees in the forest are very important to the planet.
2. Scientists can still find new species of living things every year.
3. People cannot do anything to help taking care of the Amazon.
